

AMBASSADOR VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY!

NextGen Nurse

Support our schools outreach from January 2021

Paul, Elizabeth and Jason from the National team at NHS England and NHS Improvement, in partnership with The Talent Foundry (TTF) and Speakers for Schools are looking for a diverse range of nurses to support a series of virtual and in-school workshops, insight days, work experience weeks and masterclasses.

There are plenty of opportunities to inspire the next generation and share your genuine insights into the world of nursing. There are lots of ways you can support creating and delivering our NextGen Nurse workshops and experiences with The Talent Foundry and Speakers for Schools.

NextGen Nurse with The Talent Foundry

Between January and March 2021, The Talent Foundry will be running 50 workshops in schools across England which will benefit more than 1,500 disadvantaged young people. The two hour workshops will target Year 10, 11 and sixth form students. They will be professionally delivered by TTF facilitators and open for you to support in a number of different ways including both virtually and in-person.

During the workshops, you'll be able to share your unique insight into the nursing sector, answer questions that students might have about your career or your route into nursing, share information about what the role involves day-to-day, and ultimately, encourage young people to consider a career in nursing.

NextGen Nurse with Speakers for Schools

Speakers for Schools will introduce at least 1,350 young people to the world of nursing through virtual insight days and virtual work experience between January and March 2021. Virtual talks are a great way to share your insights into the world of nursing and answer questions from interested young people. Virtual work experience provides young people with direct contact and an even closer look into a career in nursing.

We need your help to design the structure and content for the day, making it insightful, inspiring and interactive, as well as 25+ volunteers to host the virtual experiences, deliver the sessions and share their own experience of nursing.

To find out more and sign up to the opportunities available, please visit the The Talent Foundry and Speakers for Schools Focus Areas on the NHS Nursing Ambassador Hub.
