

The FoNS Creating Caring Cultures Fellowship

FOR ASPIRING AND EARLY CAREER FRONTLINE REGISTERED LEARNING DISABILITY NURSE LEADERS

The Foundation of Nursing Studies (FoNS) is delighted to be able to offer three further cohorts of this highly acclaimed, unique programme for Registered Learning Disability Nurses in England

Programmes begin May 2022, September 2022 and January 2023

The programme is designed to support aspiring/future nurse leaders to develop facilitative leadership skills and learn new methods and approaches to create health and care workplaces that are person-centred, conducive to the delivery of high-quality care and that are great places for staff to work.

Thanks to continued funding by NHS E/I, RNLDs between 6 months and 5 years post registration will be able to apply for this programme. To secure a place, compete the application and return it to ldfellowship@fons.org by 31 March 2022

Download the application form

NHS England and NHS Improvement

To apply, you will need to be able to commit to all sessions. You will need to gain sign off from your line manager and someone at Exec level. You will need to find an internal mentor too.

Find out more here <https://www.fons.org/programmes/learning-disability-fellowship>